Moldovan PM has discussions with Lithuanian Ambassador

The European path of Moldova and the deepening of the bilateral cooperation have been the main topics discussed by Prime Minister Vasile Tofan and Ambassador of Lithuania to Moldova Mindaugas Kačerauskis.

The PM thanked Lithuania for its constant support for Moldova in the process of joining the European Union and highlighted the importance of Lithuania’s upcoming presidency of the Council of the EU for advancing the accession negotiations. The prime minister reiterated Moldova’s goal of completing the negotiations by the beginning of 2028.

The discussions also focused on strengthening the economic relations between the two countries, attracting Lithuanian investments and identifying opportunities to expand exports of Moldovan products to the Lithuanian market.

Another topic of the meeting was the cooperation in the energy sector, particularly the use of Lithuania’s experience in diversifying energy supply sources. The discussions also covered cooperation in security and defense, as well as collaboration between local public authorities in the two countries.

The Lithuanian Ambassador reaffirmed his country’s support for Moldova’s accession to the European Union and its willingness to continue cooperation in areas of mutual interest.

