

Coordinated control to be set up at Sculeni border crossing between Moldova and Romania

Coordinated control regime will be applied at Sculeni border crossing between Moldova and Romania. This involves joint inspections conducted by the authorities of both countries. The decision was approved by the Cabinet of Ministers.

By applying the principle of a single stop, customs and border formalities will be conducted once, at a common point. This will reduce waiting times at the border, enhance security through direct cooperation between authorities, and facilitate increased trade exchanges between the two banks of the Prut River.

Sculeni crossing will become the fourth border point where the coordinated control concept is implemented between Moldova and Romania. This regime is already in effect at Leușeni-Albița, Giurgiulești-Galați and Cantemir-Fălciu borders.
